Serif Fonts

The little 'hooks' and 'curves' at the ends of each letter are called 'serifs.' They guide the eye to the next character, making these fonts the easiest to read. Most books are printed with serif fonts. They are the most suitable typefaces for long documents such as school papers and business reports.

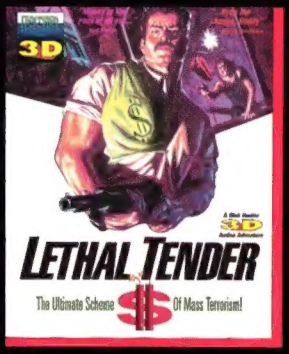
A NICK HUNTER 3D ADVENTURE



The ultimate scheme of mass terrorism!

High in the Sierra Madre Mountains, criminal mastermind Thorne Devereaux has set up an underground manufacturing plant to produce an incredibly explosive substance: code name – PAID (Particle Accelerated Incendiary Device). This compound is so unstable that an amount the size of a silver dollar could reduce a city block to smoldering ashes in seconds.

Keep track of your weapons supply while adventuring through miles of 3-D action!

And speaking of dollars, Devereaux's plan is to circulate PAID-impregnated money, creating millions of monetary time bombs. When the coating wears off, a fiery blast would kill and maim innocent citizens everywhere. The entire U.S. monetary system would be totally disrupted.

Devereaux must be stopped and there is only one man for the job: You...Nick Hunter!

Your mission is to infiltrate Devereaux's compound and disable the PAID processing machine. This will not be an ordinary mission, but then you are not an ordinary operative.
